

Are you concerned about local & global environmental (in)justices?

Are you interested in unpacking Indigenous struggles over land and environment?

GEOG 4021: Indigenous Peoples & Environmental Justice

Tuesdays & Thursdays, 8:35 – 9:55 am, Winter 2018

This 4th year seminar in Cultural Geography will introduce students to Indigenous cultural and land-based struggles in the context of environmental justice.

Undergraduate & master's students across disciplines welcome!

- Enjoy student-led discussion, field trips, multi-media, & guest presenters
- Challenge the social construction of knowledge & human/nature dualisms
- Question power, authority, and the inequality of global capitalism
- Apply approaches from cultural geography, political ecology, & postcolonialism

Instructed by Katalin Koller